|                   | implemented under the LdV Programme (2004 - 2007). General aim of the M-ASTRA project is to strengthen very small and medium sized firms as far as their chances of survival and to increase their competitiveness on the market through upgrading managerial competence. M-ASTRA project will be focused on adaptation, adjustment and implementation of competence assessment tool (ICT tool) developed in the ASTRA project in new countries and towards similar target group. Direct link between managerial competence assessment and a training plan tailored up to the needs of the tested individual are the main innovative asset of the ASTRA project that will be one of the main subjects of transfer. Target group of M-ASTRA project will be SME managers except for start-ups and managers (owners) of small firms employing up to 10 persons. The ASTRA project was focused on the last mentioned groups. The project partners will also develop the profile of SME manager. Elaboration of competence assessment tool will enable to recognize and measure SME managers' competences. The results of training needs assessment will allow to design (define) and implement training plan. The application of innovative M-ASTRA tool will allow SME managers to have better view on their competences in relation to the strategic options of their company and where they lack competence. Training plans will help managers to make right choices on training vital for their successful performance on the market. It should result in improvement of companies competitiveness. |
